PUBLIC EDUCATION
FOUNDATION

The Public Education Foundation is a charity dedicated to providing life-changing scholarships to young people in public education, their teachers and principals.

The Foundation is supported by the NSW Department of Education and works in collaboration with schools, communities, the private sector and the government to help students achieve their full potential at a public school, while enhancing the value and reputation of public school education.

Chair Report

At the end of my first year as Chair of the Public Education Foundation, I am delighted to be reporting on another successful year. This year we supported 313 new and continuing scholars through our life-changing scholarships.

There is significant need in our public education communities and it's a privilege to be able to support high potential students across Australia as they strive to succeed.

Our work would not be possible without the generosity and goodwill of our partner organisations and individuals. It is only with their support that we are able to assist increasing numbers of students facing disadvantage, showcase the talents of our public school students and provide performance recognition for students and education leaders in public education.

At our annual awards ceremony in May, these talents were on full display as we celebrated the achievements of hundreds of students and heard the words of our 1,000th scholarship recipient, Daniel Lahood, who credited his public education for motivating him to do his very best and laying the foundation for a more equal and tolerant society.

This year we also released our first Monitoring and Evaluation Report. An impressive 96% of respondents say that our scholarships have transformed their lives, over 60% say their scholarship gave them the confidence to pursue post-secondary education and over 80% acknowledge that their scholarships encouraged them to become role models or leaders in their communities.

Our success is due to the hard-work and dedication of the Public Education Foundation team led by Executive Director David Hetherington. With a broader scholarship offering and an increase in the number of applications, the highest quality management and administration has been maintained. A focus this year has been to transform processes to drive further growth and strengthen our relationships with partner organisations and supporters.

I would like to thank our committed Board members, who have provided tremendous support and guidance to the team. Special thanks goes to Chris Ryan, our former Chair. Chris has stayed on as a solidly-contributing board member and this has been appreciated by everyone.

Finally, I thank everyone for their ongoing support and I look forward to working with you all in the years ahead.

Chair

Executive Director Report

It is a great pleasure to present the 2018-19 Annual Report of the Public Education Foundation.

In many ways, it has been a hallmark year for the Foundation as we celebrated our 10th birthday.

To mark this milestone, and reflect on our journey so far, we commissioned a comprehensive evaluation of our scholarship program with support from Perpetual's IMPACT Philanthropy.

The results showed that over 98% of our eligible scholars to date have completed Year 12, compared with a national average of 79%. And of these, 62% have progressed onto university – the national average is 37%. Many of our scholars achieve this despite facing profound disadvantage.

In 2018-19, we offered 185 new scholarships to students, teachers and principals in public schools. We raised a record amount in donations of $924,801, which will allow us to fund our biggest ever scholarship round in 2019-20.

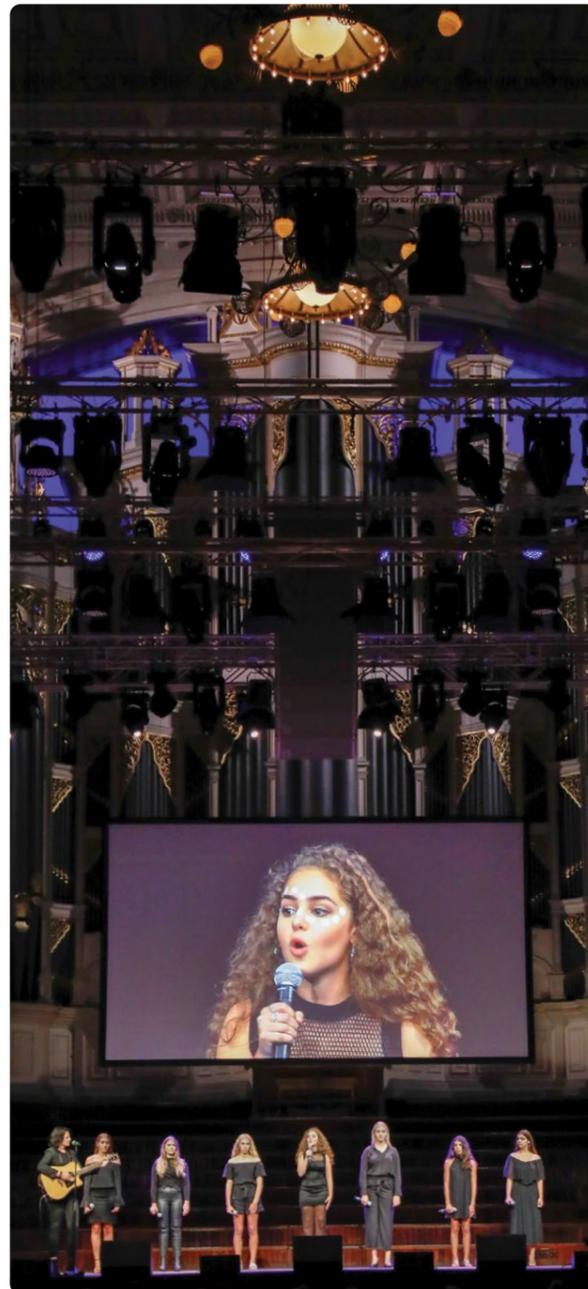

In another milestone, we were delighted to offer our 1,000th scholarship to Daniel Lahood of Ashfield Boys High School.

It is always gratifying to be able to expand our range of scholarships. Amongst others, we introduced new scholarships this year for South Australian indigenous students in partnership with the GO Foundation, and seven new scholarships to public school students in Sydney's west, supported by the Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue.

We celebrated all our scholars at our annual awards night, Proudly Public, where the remarkable Craig Foster offered powerful arguments in support of human rights and public education in his keynote speech.

In closing, I wish to note our deep gratitude to all those donors, volunteers and organisational partners who make possible our support for students and teachers in public education – your generosity is remarkable. The staff and board at the Foundation work incredibly hard to direct this support to change students' lives, and my thanks go to all of them.

David Hetherington
Executive Director

Proudly Public Celebrating Public Education

At the Public Education Foundation's annual awards night in May 2019 we recognised the remarkable work of students, teachers and principals who make our public education system great.

In the grand Sydney Town Hall, more than 270 scholarships, including Harding Miller Education Foundation scholarships, were awarded to students and educators and the talents of the Southern Stars music and dance ensembles entertained the audience with their energetic performances.

This year we were honoured to have the dynamic Jan Fran as our MC and the inspiring Craig Foster as the keynote speaker. In his powerful speech he applauded teachers for inspiring new generations of Australians and spoke about the importance of equality and compassion.

"I believe in the right of all children to an outstanding free and well-funded public education as an enabler and a leveller that reflects the fact that we are all equal ... every child has the right to aspire to whatever they want to be." Craig Foster

NSW Education and Early Childhood Minister, The Hon. Sarah Mitchell, spoke proudly about her own experiences as a student and now a parent at her local public school in country NSW.

"I am a big believer in making sure that all students no matter where they live or what school they attend can access a world class education." The Hon. Sarah Mitchell MP

We would like to extend our thanks to the Lord Mayor of Sydney, for generously providing a Lord Mayoral Reception for scholarship recipients and our supporters. The Public Education Foundation extends a very special thanks to all our event sponsors. Without their ongoing support the annual celebration of public education would not be possible.

Meet our 2019 Scholars

Daniel

Daniel is a committed student with a keen interest in social justice. From a migrant family who have struggled financially, Daniel is grateful for the opportunities he has been given in Australia. He credits the public education system for encouraging and motivating him to do his very best.

“My educational journey was supported by a culture of acceptance, diversity, equal opportunity, excellence and tight community. My positive experience as a public school student reminds me continually that there are times when we should pause and reflect about the quality that we all share. Reflect about how Public Education is something we students, teachers and parents should be proud of and reflect that Public Education is a treasure that needs to be supported and defended.”

Montana

Montana has had her share of life's challenges. She is the oldest of nine siblings who now lives with her grandparents on the NSW central coast. At Northlakes High School she is active in the school SRC, Aboriginal Education Council Group and is a leader with the Aboriginal Dance Group.

“When I applied for the scholarship I thought it would help me with the things I love. I love my education and I love my cultural dance ... this scholarship has really motivated me to work harder in every single class. It's really motivated me to take a step further every time I walk into school.”

John

John is an extraordinary young man who has been caring for his mother since he was five years old. Last year he graduated from Denison College Bathurst Campus and he is now completing a Certificate 4 in Community Service at Bathurst TAFE.

“The scholarship funds have helped me enormously – with my course fees, a laptop, even utility bills. I'm now committed to helping people with mental health issues, like my mum. The scholarship funds have helped me turn this goal into a reality.”

Tara

Tara is an outstanding student and a talented musician. She is also hearing impaired. Being someone with a disability has made her passionate about showing other people that, “just because you have a disability does not in any way mean that you can't do what you want to do and you can be as good as anyone else.”

“The scholarship has made it possible for me to pursue my dream of studying at the Conservatorium of Music. I wouldn't have been able to move to Sydney without this assistance. It's helped me to buy the resources that I need to be able to participate in the course. There have been a lot of hurdles but when you are passionate about something, you can do anything.”

Angus

Angus is a student at the remote Ungarie Central School where there are only five students in his year and 95 students in the entire K-12 school. As a STEM enthusiast, he has faced challenges pursuing his studies as he lives on a farm with poor internet services. The drought has also caused financial challenges.

“In the industrial tech timber project we need to buy our own supplies. The scholarship funds have greatly help fund my way in that project and a whole range of other technological projects ... I'd like to be an aviation engineer, so I need the technology to help me get into the right course.”

Kailee

Kailee Marshall is a teacher at Bannister Creek Primary School in Western Australia and the 2019 recipient of the First State Super Teachers Scholarship. With her scholarship funds Kailee travelled the Orff Institute, a world renowned summer school in Salzburg, to learn more about the famed pedagogical approach to music education.

“Learning from world renowned Orff practitioners was incredibly inspiring I have always loved the Orff Approach but have often found it hard to articulate why this pedagogical approach resonates with me so strongly. Wolfgang Hartmann summed it up perfectly during one of our sessions. He said at the centre of Orff is the child, not the music. I believe in helping my students to be the best versions of themselves they can be. Through Orff I can do this.”
